

John Fairclough

13, 16 HARDWICKS SQ, SW18 4LP - 07827 293288 - JOHNMF AIRCLOUGH@GMAIL.COM

A design driven software developer, delivering working applications utilising WordPress, HTML5, CSS3, Javascript and REACT. Always learning, developing my skills and applying them to applications, I am looking for a new challenge and the next step in my career. www.jfairclough.com.

EXPERIENCE

Art Division

Front End Developer March 2020 – Present

- Creating themes and websites for the property sector
- Optimising menus and improving the user experience
- PHP
- Wordpress
- Javascript
- Css
- Html
- jQuery
- React

DRAKE'S

Assistant Merchandiser and Wholesale Accounts Manager September 2018 – April 2019

- Managing the end to end order to delivery process through a small team
- Management and maintenance of over 200 global accounts
- Organising and reviewing shipment plans with key accounts
- Supporting and working closely with the buyer in all wholesale buying functions
- Analysing and aligning pricing with retail and E-commerce channels
- Proactively working to improve delivery performance and order fulfilment
- Anticipating and planning around delivery issues, linking customer needs and feedback to supply chain operations
- Enhancing interdepartmental coordination with Production, Buying, Finance, Warehouse and logistics
- Managing the invoicing and Credit note reconciliation process
- Overseeing the delivery schedule and process
- Setting up and designing new reports in Business Objects to facilitate the department
- Managing new processes and strategies within ERP system Prima

HACKETT LONDON

Assistant Merchandiser May 2017 – August 2018

- Updating and re-forecasting Monitor Sheets and WSSI to identify OTB and potential overstock situations
- Working closely with Planning, Production and Vendors to manage order processes, ensuring the Critical Path dates are correct and reflected in any commitment.
- Managing departmental intake, attending weekly production meetings, flagging issues and proposing solutions

- Supporting the Merchandiser by working closely with the relevant teams to create, deliver and manage sales plans
- Creating departmental reports from raw data - analysing performance, opportunities, risks and trends.
- Liaising with channels on a daily basis to ensure they have the optimum size and depth of product ranges and sizes to support and deliver store plans.
- Issuing markdowns, analysing promotions and making suggestions to ensure terminal stock management.
- Responsible for all inventory movements within the department, using the internal inventory system SAP

EDUCATION

Udemy

Front To Back 2019 Oct 2019 - Present

- React 16.8
- Redux
- MongoDB
- Express
- Node

Full Stack Web Development

Codecademy May 2019 - September 2019

- | | |
|--------------|---|
| • HTML | • React |
| • CSS | • Node JS |
| • Javascript | • Sass |
| • CLI | • Building a Persistent API |
| • GIT | • Test Driven Development with Javascript |

LONDON COLLEGE OF FASHION

Menswear Pattern Cutting (Intensive) September 2016 – November 2016

- Developed all aspects of professional menswear pattern cutting skills to industry standard
- Pattern manipulation - Altering patterns for fit, as well as changing the look of a garment to create different silhouettes and for working with different fabrics
- Creating menswear patterns for a variety of garments
- Producing sample pieces and finished garments from the patterns enabling to test for fit and accuracy

SOUTHAMPTON SOLENT UNIVERSITY

Fashion Management with Marketing BA (HONS) (2.1) September 2013 – June 2016

- Marketing Principles in Fashion
- Management of Consumer Services
- Creative Entrepreneurship Freelance Practice
- Multi-Channel Marketing Management
- Sales analysis and profit management
- Market/ Trend research
- International Fashion Communication